

Anna Maria Island's Virtual Scavenger Hunt

1. I run across the ground and use the adhesive pads on my toes to climb and run up trees, plants and just about anything. I'm one of the island's best top climbers. I'm an anole. Can you find me?
2. You hear me ... laughing, wailing or making squawking calls. I have a longish bills and webbed feet. I should eat crabs and small fish but I love making a game of trying to sneak and eat people food ... especially at the beach ... even though I shouldn't. I'm a seagull. Can you find me?
3. Some people collect me, some people use me as decoration in yards or in homes. I'm a hard, protective outer layer created by an animal as the outer body that lives in the sea. I have many shapes and forms. I'm a sea shell. Can you find me?
4. When the younger ones first ride me, I have four wheels. Then I have two ... people power me and lucky for people there are no big hills on Anna Maria Island. You see me riding all over the island and most neighborhoods for fun or for transportation. I'm a bicycle. Can you find me?
5. I have Pistols and I have stems and I am the bees' best friend. I'm blooming all over the island. I'm a flower. Can you find me?
6. I live underwater but I'M still in school. People like to catch me, artists like to paint me, and some people hang pictures of me inside and outside of their homes. I'm a fish. Can you find me?
7. I'm a very large mammal that lives under the sea. I can grow up to 13 feet long and over 1,000 lbs. I swim very slowly so you may have a picture of me. I eat plants and some people call me a sea cow. I call myself the official greeter welcoming residents and visitors alike when they enter the island. I'm a manatee. Can you find me?
8. I may live in your house or you may see me strolling down the sidewalk or playing outside. You may have taught me tricks or I may have taught you tricks like how to fetch the ball for me. I'm your faithful canine companion, otherwise known as a dog. Can you find me?
9. I travel up and down the streets of Anna Maria Island daily. I start early in the morning and travel through the night. You may have taken me to the beach, to dinner, to ride for fun or to work or just see people waiting for me. I'm the Anna Maria Trolley. Can you find me?
10. I'm famous. I've been around for more than 400 million years, longer than dinosaurs. I'm the ocean's top predator and get a bad rap, but I play a very important role in the ocean and our planet. You may know me from the 5-7 gills on the side of my head that I use to filter oxygen from the water or, more likely, from the dorsal fin on my body. I'm a shark, and I'm not only in the water but there are pictures of me all over the island. Can you find me?
